

WALGREEN OFFERS PROOF COMMUNISM CHARGE

28 DEMOCRATS
FAIL TO VOTE
FOR SALES TAXSen. Searcy Shows
Republicans Helped
in Beating Plan

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—
Barl B. Searcy of Springfield, Republican leader in the senate, today
waded back to Governor Horner
and the Democratic majority the blame for the legislature's deadlock
on relief financing.

With "utter amazement," Searcy
said, the governor had followed
"someone's half-baked advice" in denouncing the Republican minority in the house of representatives for the defeat of the administration bills to finance relief by increasing the sales tax to three per cent.

Replying with another statement
Searcy said:

"Governor Horner's statement
and charges cannot, in fairness, be credited to a man in robust health. They smack too much of
of the mental reasonings of a disappointed child, suddenly bereft of his favorite toy and rebellious as a result."

When the sales tax bill was killed
in the house, Searcy said that six Democrats voted against it and 22
others did not vote, although they were present.

He also recalled that when an identical bill was called up in the senate on Wednesday, only ten of the 35 Democrats voted for it.

"As for the three months' delay
in relief legislation, Governor Horner himself was a party to that," Searcy continued. "The delay was ordered because the Democrats did not want any additional tax bills
voted until after the Chicago city election. Everyone in the Assembly knows that."

The senator described as "boorish" the governor's comparison of the sales tax opponents with the southern Democratic leaders before the Civil War.

No Aid for Racketeers
Republican and some Democratic legislators were described by Searcy
as trying to force the financing of relief without additional taxation.

"Relief funds ought to go to the persons who need help, not to racketeers," he said. "Agricultural organizations of Illinois have some plans we want to consider. We don't need additional taxes. And,
so far as some of us are concerned,
we'll not have it."

Attention was again called to the fact that Horner has not submitted
the state budget, as required by law, and the Democrats were charged with using relief as a partisan political weapon last fall.

Dixonite Tells of Dust Storms Which
Hit the Southwest

Al Pettit, Jr. on his way to Los Angeles, Calif., in company with friends, writes Dixon friends from Garden City, Kan., where the party was delayed by the recent dust storm.

In and around Garden City, Mr.
Pettit says, the dust is piled high
in drifts much as snow would drift
in a heavy wind. He says one can scarcely grasp the devastation
and desolation wrought by the black blizzards of the southwest this spring. A thick layer of dust coats the floors and walls in the hotels, and a constant haze stifles the atmosphere. Mr.
Pettit said everyone is advised to wear a wet cloth mask on the face
when going outdoors. Dishes are washed several times a day by housewives.

Mrs. Blackledge is Sent Back to Cell

Chicago, April 13.—(AP)—Mrs.
Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, former Collector of Internal Revenue, was defeated today in her effort to cut short a jail sentence imposed for
"love theft" when a federal court denied her a writ of habeas corpus.

Her attorneys immediately asked
an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of appeals, which Judge
William H. Holly granted.

Mrs. Blackledge, serving her sixth day of a six-month sentence,
was returned to the Cook county jail after Judge Holly refused to set her free. The judge said the bill was a matter for the Circuit Court of Appeals to decide.

HOPKINS ALLOTS
$113,661,384 AS
FUND FOR NEEDY

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—
Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, today allotted $113,- 661,384 for April relief.

Georgia was the only state to receive no funds, while Pennsylvania was granted only enough for the first half of the month.

The April total compared with $132,936,226 for March. Grant included:

Illinois $8,798,845; Indiana $2,- 848,460; Iowa $1,162,568; Missouri $2,773,985; Wisconsin $3,449,815.

Hopkins explained the allotments
included funds previously made available as well as grants for the remainder of the month. Funds were for general and drought relief, transient aid, emergency education and the student aid program.

ENGINEER SAYS
WHISTLE, BELL
WERE OPERATING

Tells of Crash on Maryland Crossing Which Killed Fourteen

Baltimore, April 13.—(AP)—
The engineer of the Baltimore &
Ohio express train that ripped open a Williamsport, Md., school bus at Rockville and snuffed out the lives of 14 pupils asserted today

he approached the crossing with the engine whistle screaming and the bell going full blast.

Testifying at the railroad's official inquiry into the disaster, Engineer J. A. Shoebright was asked to describe in his "own words" what happened in the fog and rain at the Rockville crossing Thursday night.

"As we came through Rockville,
I blew my whistle just as I passed the whistle board 1,410 feet from the crossing," Shoebright said. "I began ringing my bell about half way from the board to the crossing."

Near Maximum Speed.
"Just a few seconds later I heard the fireman shout. A second or two later, the crash came. The fireman yelled 'We've hit a bus.'"

Shoebright estimated his speed
at between 55 and 60 miles an hour. The maximum speed allowed by the railroad, he said, is 60 miles an hour.

Immediately after the crash, he continued, he applied the emergency brakes but the speed of the train carried him about 1,850 feet
past the crossing before he could stop.

His headlight, he said, was powerful enough to make an object the size of a man visible 700 or 800 feet ahead. However, he said he did not observe the bus until he saw a shower of fire and sparks
when he struck it.

Other witnesses told the railroad
officials inquiring into the tragedy
that the crossing signals and warning bells were in full operation at the time of the crash.

Wage Differential Cause Closing
New England Mills; 7,000 are Idle

Boston, April 13.—(AP)—The closing of three New England textile mills employing 3,810 workers
was announced today while governors and congressional representatives at Washington appealed to the President for relief for the industry in this section.

The Graylock mills in North Adams and the Berkshire mills at Adams today announced they would close next week. The mills employ 3,400 workers. Both mills and the management said, had been idle during the week.

At the same time the management of the Hope mill at Scituate,
R. I., employing 419, announced it would close April 19.

IERC REQUESTS
LEGAL PROBE OF
PAST ACTIVITIES

Alleged Deliberate Plot
to Ruin Reputation of State Commission

Chicago, April 13.—(AP)—The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission today requested federal and state authorities to investigate conduct of the commission's affairs
and published charges of waste and inefficiency in handling relief
funds.

The commission adopted a resolution last night calling on the United States District Attorney, the Attorney General of Illinois and
the Cook County State's Attorney to inquire into both the commission's acts and an alleged "deliberate conspiracy" to discredit the relief commission.

A letter was read to the commission members from Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary, charging that parts of checks reproduced in a Chicago newspaper had been deleted. The omitted portions, Reynolds alleged, were cancellation
stamps showing the checks were either withheld or returned to the commission, and never cashed.

Indicated Waste
The tenor of the reproductions
was to indicate waste and inefficiency
in handling relief funds, he said.

"If Mr. Reynolds' claims are true, it looks like there has been a deliberate attempt to ruin the reputation of the commission and its members by falsifying records of the body," said Victor Olander, Chicago member of the commission.
"It's a conspiracy bordering on criminal libel and I, for one, don't intend to sit quietly by and see it continue."

Robert J. Dunham, chairman of the commission, announced he would seek permission from federal authorities to relieve State Auditor Edward J. Barrett from all responsibility in handling relief funds at Barrett's request.

Advance Checks Stopped

The Auditor asked to either be relieved or provided with means to execute his authority, citing
what he termed "a general loose-ness of the work relief system." He opposed a system of writing work
relief checks in advance and releasing them when timekeepers made their reports. Reynolds told the commission the system already has been abandoned.

Dunham appointed a committee
composed of Barrett, State Treasurer John Stelle and Director of Finance Knowlton Ames, Jr., to investigate the desirability of setting up a business control office to check expenditures and report directly to the commission without working through the executive secretary.

Proposed grants totaling $44,300
to 14 school districts adjudged unable to maintain operation for the remainder of the term were postponed until the next meeting,
pending the legislature's action on further relief funds.

HORNER TAKES HAND

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—
Governor Horner took a direct hand in the relief financing deadlock today by condemning as "partisan obstructionism" the refusal of Republican legislators to vote for an increased sales tax.

There were indications that the administration, with the full support of Mayor Kelly of Chicago,
was planning another drive to force
through the legislature the bills for a three percent tax on retail sales and utilities.

Speaking of the 46 Republican representatives who voted against Thursday, the governor issued a statement saying:

"It is for them to explain to their starving constituents and to the hundreds of thousands dependent on relief, why they took the action
they now rejoice in."

The six competitors in a preliminary contest are John Newcomer, Herschel Hopkins, Harvey Litt-
rell, Harold Longenecker, Robert Trough and Robert McCleary. The winner of this group will journey
to Polo to compete with representatives of 28 other chapters.

Above Average Wheat
Crop Indicated Now

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—
April 1 indications for an above-average winter wheat crop in Illinois were reported today by the state and Federal departments of agriculture.

The April 1 survey of crop conditions indicated the state's winter
wheat crop would total 32,830,000
bushels, announced A. J. Surraff, agricultural statistician. In 1934,
the harvest was 29,248,000 bushels.
For the 1928-32 five year average,
it was 30,079,000.

DIXON SHARE OF
MARCH GAS TAX
FIXED AT $810

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—
For highway construction and maintenance, Illinois cities and villages will get $492,682.03 from March gasoline tax collections.

In addition, the state held out
$41,590 as a reserve for the $30,000-000 relief bond issue.

The net allotment to Chicago
was $262,968.36, of which $131,484.18
will be used for school purposes.

Other net allotments included:
Dixon $810.74; Freeport 1,824.89;
Galena 308.05; LaSalle 1,055.55;
Perry 750.67; Ottawa 1,194.90; Rock
Island 3,078.23; Sterling 827.07.

POLICE CHASED
SPEEDING AUTO
THROUGH DIXON

Unable to Overtake Two Wanted for Failing to Pay for Gas

Police Officers John Bohnstiel
and Richard Pomeroy were unsuccessful in an attempt to halt a speeding car this morning at 7 o'clock, in which two strange men
sped through early morning traffic
through the city and escaped.
Sheriff Ward Miller requested the police officers to halt a Plymouth
coach bearing New Jersey license plates in which two men were riding. The car had stopped at the Butler service station in Ashton,
where the attendant was ordered to fill up the gasoline tank, and before he had an opportunity to replace the tank cap, the driver sped
west on the Lincoln Highway without paying for the service.

The sheriff was notified at once and called the police to take up the search. The police squad car met the speeding car at the city limits
and started in pursuit. At Galena avenue and Seventh street, the driver
of the car observed the police following and sped west to Hennepin avenue and sped south. The police car followed to Tenth street and then turned west to Peoria avenue,
believing that the pair would turn back. As they arrived at Peoria avenue the New Jersey car sped
north on Peoria avenue to First street, where it was momentarily
pocketed in the traffic.

Police Outdistanced

The squad car had been outdistanced but succeeded in driving close to the speeding machine at First street, when the driver, swerved through the traffic and sped across the Peoria avenue
bridge. At River street, Officer Pomeroy fired one shot at the tires
of the speeding machine, which served only to spur the driver to increase speed and the car continued west out of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway.

The Sterling police were requested to attempt to halt the machine which was believed to have been a stolen car. The local officers stated that one of the occupants of the speeding machine appeared to be unintoxicated and apparently was aware of the chase while the driver
was alert and from all appearances, an experienced driver. No trace of the car was found after it left Dixon on the Lincoln Highway.

Johnson to be Last
Witness About NRA

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—
Chairman Harrison announced today the senate finance committee
would close its NRA investigation
next Thursday with testimony by Hugh S. Johnson, former administrator.

After closing the inquiry, the committee will proceed to put into final form the bill for extending the recovery unit another two years.
Already negotiations were underway behind the scenes with senators such as Borah of Idaho who have demanded full restoration of the anti-trust laws.

Sensitive Plant, Given Dumbbells,

Develops Lifting "Muscles" After
Thirty Days of Gymnastic Exercise

Detroit, April 13.—(AP)—Give a sensitive plant, mimosa, a set of dumbbells and it will develop its lifting "muscles."

The plant is sensitive to the suggestion of exercise, W. E. Burge and G. C. Wickmire of the University of Illinois reported today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology after experiments with the delicate plant.

When the plant's leaves are touched they drop, then slowly rise.
The exercise experiment was made
by attaching weights to the leaves.
After 30 days of this, the leaves were able to lift almost twice as much as leaves similarly exercised
without the "dumbbell" weights.

UNIVERSITY'S PRESIDENT IS NOT SPECIFICHutchins Issues General Denial Communism is Taught

Chicago, April 13.—(AP)—Investigation of University of Chicago
academic instruction was demanded today from two sources
alleging that radical doctrines permeate teachings of the privately
endowed institution.

State Senator Charles W. Baker,
Monroe Center Republican, pushed plans for the state legislature to investigate the school, recipient of heavy endowment from Rockefeller interests on the grounds
"that many of its buildings are exempt from taxation, a privilege
that could be revoked."

Charles R. Walgreen, chain drug store magnate, whose withdrawal of his niece, Lucile Norton, from the university because he said he was unwilling to have her "absorb the Communist influences to which she is so insidiously exposed," precipitated the senator's demand. Walgreen meanwhile offered to prove his charges at an open meeting of the university's board of trustees.

Insists on Press.

"I will be pleased to submit what I consider proofs of Communistic
influence in the university provided you will arrange an early meeting of the trustees, you and myself. The press must be present," Walgreen said in a letter to President Robert Maynard Hutchins.

While not replying specifically to Walgreen's charges, President Hutchins issued a general statement of university policy denying that either Communism or the violent overthrow of government is taught at the school.

"I believe that freedom of inquiry, freedom of speech and freedom of teaching are indispensable
to democracy," he declared.
Baker planned to ask the legislature, when it reconvenes Tuesday, for an investigation. Twice before the general assembly has rejected measures by Baker to withdraw state funds and tax exemption privileges from institutions permitting "advocacy of overthrow of government" and other radical beliefs.

STUDENT FOES REJOICE

Student foes of war rejoiced today over the scope of their peace
demonstrations, sped more petitions toward the White House—
and took egg-spattered and river-
soaked clothes to the cleaners.

Joseph P. Lash, chairman of the national students strike committee,
estimated that 125,000 students
walked out of colleges and universities in all parts of the nation
during yesterday's "strike" on behalf of peace.

That number is five times the extimate of last year's turnout, but 25,000 less than the committee had predicted.

Demonstrations were generally peaceful although more militaristic
students used everything from vegetables to burlesque to express opposition.

FIRST THINGS

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

ALL of us, of whatever faith, admire Jesus, but we have no intention of doing what he told us to do. We pay him lip homage, but we make little effort to follow his way of living.

Yes, theoretically, we expect some time to obey his words, as a final resort, if worst comes to worst. That is, provided everybody else agrees to do so too, making it entirely safe and sane.

Well, today the worst has well nigh come to the worst, and the world is torn up, tangled up, and distracted. Why? All of us know well enough, but we refuse to face the fact, which is as plain as a pike-staff.

Our best instincts, as well as our plain common sense, agree that Jesus was right when he told us to give first place to the things that matter most. But that is the last thing we do.

To put the meaning of life before the means of living, and the things of the spirit before money, motors, movies—before gain and fame and fashion—would seem to be the wise thing to do.

If we seek the kingdom of righteousness first, Jesus said, all other things will be added to us. But we seek the other things first, if not all the time, and expect the kingdom of heaven to be added to us. As a result, the world is upside down, because we have put things bottom side up. Our ideas of what is good and lasting are false, and so we lead a topsy-turvy life in a half crazy world.

To put rights before duties, cleverness before character, and hate before love, is to invite disaster. How could it be otherwise? The universe is built on another basis and ruled by another law.

Of course to say these things seems trite, if not preachy; but they are true just the same. Jesus was terribly accurate in his insight, and the facts show that he saw straight and knew what he was talking about.

Force, repression, craft, cunning, pomp of power and parade of wealth—these things have brought no real happiness to the human heart, and they never will while grass grows and suns rise and sets.

Dixon Girl Will Compete in Contest

In a contest for a trip to Washington, D. C., sponsored by the Illinois Daughters of the American Revolution, Miss Roberta McInnes of Belvidere was the winner in the drawing which was conducted by the state superintendent of schools. The names of the contestants consisted of one representative each from the many high schools in the state. Miss Frances Naylor was selected by the senior class and faculty of the Dixon high school to compete in the contest, the qualifications being honesty, courage, loyalty and patriotism. Miss McInnes left Friday for Washington as guest of the Illinois Daughters of the American Revolution.

Piquant Spinach
3 cups cooked spinach
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup water

2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 hard cooked eggs, sliced

Melt butter, add flour and when blended add water and cook 2 minutes. Add vinegar and seasonings. Pour over hot spinach and top with sliced eggs.

Avocado Salad
2 avocados
1/4 cup French dressing
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup water

Peel avocados, cut in halves and discard pits. Add dressing and chill 2 hours or longer. Arrange on lettuce and add rest of ingredients. Serve immediately.

Strawberry Shortcake
1 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons fat

2 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter
3 cups berries
3/4 cup sugar

Wash and hull berries. Add sugar. Chill. Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in fat with knife. Add milk. Pour soft dough into greased pan. Press until dough is 3/4 inch thick. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven. Split and add portions of berries, replace top, spread with butter and cover with remaining berries. Serve plain or with cream.

If colored butters are desired for sandwiches, use pimiento combined with butter for red or pink, while watercress chopped fine will give the desired green and orange or lemon rind blended with butter gives the yellow color.

D. U. V. Presented Flag Eldena School

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, in honor of Grand Army Day, presented a flag to the Eldena school on Monday, April 8th, which is taught by Miss Marie E. Shippert. Several of the Daughters were present and many of the parents of the children.

The president of the Daughters, gave a very nice talk and introduced the Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Cora Etheridge, who presented the flag to the school.

Following is the program given: Welcome—Jeanette Nafziger. Song—America, the Beautiful. Reading—The Banner Betsy Made—Ruth Crouse.

Piano Number—Daisy Salzman. The Flag Talks—Fourth Grade. My Flag—Arlene King. Flag Drill—Boys.

Reading—Robert Glessner. Piano Number—Gladys Salzman. Your Flag and My Flag—Jean Lyle.

History of the Flag—Helen Lyle. American Creed—Mark Salzman. Several selections were played and sung by Myron Austin and Miss Smith.

Mrs. Lillian Austin gave a reading composed by herself, "In Memory of Our Fathers."

Mrs. Onnen gave a fine talk on patriotism, and gave some literature to the children. Miss Shippert expressed her appreciation for the flag, and invited all to remain for refreshments which consisted of cakes donated by the mothers of the children for this happy occasion, and ice cream donated by the school.

Dietrich-Swanson Wedding in Oregon

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Pauline Dietrich of Byron and Martha Swanson of Winnebago, which was solemnized in Rockford Friday afternoon at the home of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. J. A. Benander of Salem Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Swanson will live on a farm near Winnebago.

Directs "The Seven Last Words," Sun.

On Sunday, evening at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church in Rochelle Miss E. Marie O'Brien will conduct the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words." The admission will be free. Robert Knudson of Rockford will sing the tenor role.

Sacred Concert Sunday, St. Anne's

On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the choir of St. Anne's church is presenting a sacred concert which no doubt will be well attended. There will be no admission charged, but a silver offering will be taken.

The choir of St. Anne's church in their Sunday program is presenting the Stabat Mater by Jacob Rheinberger. The Stabat Mater is a celebrated Latin church song which is sung in the Catholic church generally during the services in Lent. Some consider one of the popes as its author, but according to the most probable opinion, it was written by Jacobus de Benedictus in the thirteenth century, who gave himself up to a life of religion, upon the death of his wife.

The words have received several changes but the Stabat Mater remains one of the Latin songs of the early church which breathe a truly poetical and sacred enthusiasm. Also on this program will be included the vestal, "Gallia," by Charles Gounod.

Following is the program:

Dolores-John Combine Weakening?

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 13.—(AP)—High on a hill in Beverly is the handsome home John Barrymore bought for his bride, the former Dolores Costello. For years it has been pointed out as "The Barrymore Home."

But Dolores doesn't live there anymore, and John hasn't been there for months.

Today Dolores was installed in a new home in the exclusive Wilshire district. Her roving actor-husband is somewhere in the east.

Whatever the status of their domestic affairs, Barrymore and the beautiful Dolores, who gave up stardom to become Barrymore, kept strictly to themselves.

Mrs. Barrymore, who may be planning to return to pictures, leased her new brick wall-enclosed home for a year. Why she left her husband's palatial mansion had the film colony guessing today.

ELKS LADIES CLUB TO MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Because of next Friday being Good Friday the Elks Ladies club will meet Wednesday at 2, instead of Friday.

The STORY of EASTER

The Wednesday of His last week of public life was spent by Jesus in seclusion, perhaps at the Bethany home where He had been making His stay these final, trying days, and where His devoted followers, Martha, Mary and Lazarus, ministered to Him. He may have passed this day alone, preparing Himself for the end; or in communion with His apostles, bracing them against the coming days. But in Jerusalem, the multitude looked for Him in vain. On this day the Sanhedrists met at the home of Caiaphas to perfect their plans to bring about Jesus' downfall. They were afraid to

Accomplished Daughter Of J. M. Stagers to Be Married May 4

The invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Clara Stager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mickle Stager of Sterling, and J. K. Burnham Hockaday, on Saturday, the fourth of May, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Grace Episcopal church in Sterling, Ill. There will be a reception at Larchwood, following the ceremony.

Miss Clara Stager is the attractive and accomplished daughter of Atty, and Mrs. Stager. She and her sister, Miss Mary Stager, studied music in New York City for several years. Her mother was Miss Dot Downing of Dixon before her marriage to Mr. Stager. Mrs. Z. W. Moss of Whitthorne, is a sister of Mrs. Stager and an aunt of the bride-to-be.

There is to be quite a bit of entertaining in honor of Miss Stager. Mrs. Arthur Wheeler and Mrs. Ward Hungeate of Sterling are entertaining on the morning of the wedding day with a breakfast at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dillon and Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Wood are entertaining for the bride and groom; and Miss Mary Stager is entertaining with a dance at the Country Club on the Friday evening preceding the wedding.

To Open Nursery School June 3-July 12

Mesdames Winifred (Ligouri) Welch, and Mildred (Claire) Schrock, are opening a nursery school this summer which is to be known as "The Jack and Jill Nursery school." Both of the sponsors are graduate nurses and there is to be as much outside supervision as the weather will permit. Children from two to four years of age are being enrolled for the term which will be of six weeks duration, from June 3 to July 12.

Rebekah Card Party Successful

The card party given by the Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening in I. O. O. F. hall was a decided success. In spite of the inclemency of the weather a large crowd was in attendance. Bridge and Five Hundred were each played, each player vowing to get the most pleasure from the game.

Mrs. Anna Moore received the first prize in bridge and Mrs. Gordon Andrews the consolation. First prize for gentlemen went to Chas. Ruggles, consolation to John Herman.

Mrs. Fred Minke received first prize in five hundred and Dr. Marjan White consolation. Fred Trouth received head prize in gentlemen's division and Guy Moulton, consolation.

Very tasty refreshments were served by the committee.

O. E. S. PARLOR CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

The members of the O. E. S. Parlor club will meet Monday afternoon at the Temple, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles Sworn is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Webster Poole, Mrs. E. J. Decker, Mrs. Adolph Eichler, and Mrs. Clark Rickard.

PALMYRA FARM AND HOME CLUB MEETS TUESDAY

The Palmyra Farm and Home Community club will meet Tuesday evening in the Sugar Grove church. There will be a program and a good attendance is anticipated. The committee will furnish the refreshments.

ARE GUESTS AT HOME MRS. ALEXANDER

Mrs. J. Russell Taber of Omaha, Neb., daughter of Mrs. E. D. Alexander and Mrs. William Philcox of Aledo, Ill., a sister, are here to visit a few weeks at the Alexander home.

COURAGE OF HIS CONVICTIONS
The action of Mr. Charles R. Walgreen, head of the great Walgreen drug organization, in withdrawing his niece from attendance at the Chicago University because of the communistic ideas that are being taught to students by instructors who seem to be under the spell of Soviet Russia, was a courageous action and will win for
Mr. Walgreen a salvo of plaudits from coast to coast.
It is refreshing and encouraging when a man like Mr.
Walgreen is willing to come out in the open on a matter of such importance to the public welfare. Professional politicians are heard from along such lines quite frequently but somehow, Mr. Walgreen's action, coming from a man of his type, a calm, logical straight-thinker, makes you know that he has carefully analyzed the entire situation and viewed it from every angle and has come to the conclusion that conditions at the university are so bad
that drastic action is necessary.

ROMANCE HAS NOT DIED WITH SQUARE-RIGGERS
The day of rip-snorting romance at sea is supposed to have ended about the time when the steamboat shoved
the last of the square-riggers off the main sea lanes.
But romance doesn't depend on the trappings of tradition. As long as there are oceans to be crossed and men to cross them there will be adventure, and romantic things can happen to a seaman today just as well as they did 100 years ago.

Consider, for instance, the surprising things that befell a young man named J. Ancil Bayette, who went to sea for a lark last June after graduation from the University of Florida.
Bayette shipped on a four-masted schooner for St.
Vincent, in the Cape Verde Islands. The schooner had a load of lumber and automobiles, and it immediately ran into very heavy weather—so heavy that it took 114 days
to make the trip, whereas even Columbus did it in 90.

Anyway, on arrival at St. Vincent, the skipper got into difficulties with the owners and was dismissed. And then, by a freak of chance, young Bayette, fresh out of college, was put in command, and the schooner took on a new cargo and cleared for the west coast of Africa.
Old Man Trouble was still on the prowl. More storms came. The old schooner sprung a leak—or, more accurately, a whole set of leaks. And the young collegian who went to sea for a lark found himself commanding a foundering hulk in an Atlantic gale, with his frightened crew putting in 24 hours a day at the pumps.

Finally the pumps clogged. The schooner became waterlogged. The young skipper found his brief career of command climaxed by the necessity of abandoning ship.
There was just one lifeboat—an 18-foot affair into which 12 men had to jam themselves. It was powered with a small motor, but the motor wouldn't work and they had to take it out. They set forth, leaving the schooner to sink, and set out to brave the gale.

There followed days of great privation. A steamer hove in sight, failed to see them in the storm wrack and went away. Food ran low; toward the end they were reduced to the unusual and interesting diet of hard-boiled eggs and whisky.
And at last, with food and strength and hope vanishing together, they managed to land on the tip of the island of Brava, in the Cape Verde group, where they slept in caves on a rocky beach until one of their number was able to walk to a settlement and summon help.

So the romance of the sea is dead, is it? If you think so, you might ask this young college lad from Florida.

A REBUFF FOR HITLER
The vote in Danzig at the election of representatives of the Volkstag ought to be a salutary check on the vaulting ambition of the German Nazis.

This vote was hailed in advance as another great Hitler triumph like that of the Saar. A pro-Nazi majority as heavy as that rolled up in the Saar would have been indubitable evidence that the overwhelming mass of Germans everywhere wanted to accept Hitler as their leader and looked to him to guide them out of their troubles.

But Danzig, 95 per cent German, gives the Nazis only about 60 per cent of its votes—an increase of only some 8
per cent over the last election.

The moral is obvious. The Danzig Germans want reunion with the fatherland, clearly—but a very sizable minority thinks that to embrace Hitlerism would be to pay
too high a price for it.

EXCUSABLE DUMBNESS
It is always comforting, somehow, to see a professor stub his toe. So there is something perversely pleasing about the knowledge that when 25 Princeton professors met at a tea party the other day and decided to give themselves a general intelligence test, very few of them came even close to passing.

They asked themselves 41 questions. One man managed to answer 19 of them correctly. None of the rest did even that well.

But before we crow too much over professional
frailty, we might remember that those questions were really tough. For instance: Did Naevius originate the fabu-lae praetextatae? Has the four-dimensional analogue of a cube 12 corners? Are the roots of a general polynomial of degree higher than four, complex numbers?

Lets not be too hard on the professors. You could miss a lot of questions like those and still be a pretty smart sort of person.

Neither I nor any one after me will sign anything derogatory to our honor. What we sign we will keep.—
Adolf Hitler.

To every single little tent each of the Twynites quickly went. "My goodness," shouted Dotty, "what a wondrous circus land."

"The animals are strange to see, 'cause they're as small as they can be. To travel with a circus of this would be just grand."

"Well," said the circus owner, "I soon may decide to let you try to run my tiny show a while. It would be lots of fun."

"However, there is much that you and all the rest must learn to do. The circus would go smash, if things were not correctly done."

"A fine ringmaster is one thing I need. He stands out in a ring and tells the people what comes next. Now, who will tackle that?"

"I have a suit the lot can wear. It's in a chest, right over there. The leader should wear a very classy looking hat."

"I'll take that job," yelled Scouty. "Gee, it is a job that's made for me. I have a real strong voice, and folks can hear all that I say."

He then rushed to the little chest. "Ah! Here's where Scouty looks his best," said Goldy, with a smile. "We'll have some fun with him to-day."

The owner helped him don the clothes and shortly said, "Well, goodness knows, this suit must have been made for you. It fits you to a T."

And then they all heard Duncy yell, "Hey, look at me. Don't I look swell? I also found a dandy suit, as you can plainly see."

"Ho, ho," laughed Windy. "What a sight! That suit belongs to you, all right. It is a little clown suit, just the type that you should use."

"You've always been just like a clown. Look out, now, or you'll topple down. I'll bet, if you take one step, you will trip, in those large shoes."

1935 FORD TUDOR SEDAN

"A definite departure from previous Ford design, the new 1935 Ford V-8 Tudor Sedan has distinctively modern body lines. Principal among improvements this year is the new "ride"—made possible by a new system of spring suspension, proper car weight balance and better passenger weight distribution. Passengers now ride in the "Comfort Zone", closer to the center of the car, between the wheels. All steel bodies and safety glass throughout are safety features. The car is approximately 8 inches longer than 1934 models.

Mayor Campbell Issues Statement to Voters Outlining His Position

As you know, there will be a city election in this City next Tuesday for the purpose of electing a mayor and four commissioners. I am a candidate for the office of Mayor. As I am unable to meet with each and everyone of you personally, I am using this means of conveying to you some of the affairs of the city, and my policies for its successful operation.

Having served you as Commissioner for the past sixteen years, I feel that I am well informed as to City affairs. I will conduct the duties of the office of Mayor in the same honest, loyal and economic way in which I have always strived to perform the duties of Commissioner, and I am now, as always in the past, in favor of strict enforcement of the Ordinances of our City.

The thing that seems to be of most interest and, of course, foremost importance, is the financial condition of this City. During the past and during the sixteen years in which I have been a public official, Dixon has paid all its obligations. In the last five or six years, when many municipalities and every State and even our National Government were experiencing financial troubles, the City of Dixon stands out as one of the very few cities in the State which has no direct obligations unpaid. No one's afraid of this wolf if they like soap and water. The little pigs know this; so equipped with pails of hot water, brushes and brooms, they attack the bad wolf and drive him from their house.

Spring Sports Revive With Prospects Bright for Genial Week-End

Dixon State Hospital Team Plays First Baseball Tilt

Prospects of a sunny, genial week end bolstered hopes of Dixon's sportsmen that spring sports would resume their sway uninterrupted by the weather, Sunday. Dixon State Hospital employees will officially open the 1935 baseball season in a practice game with the patients this afternoon at the hospital.

Manager Bud Rink's Dixon Independent baseball team will swarm over the Airport diamond for their first genuine practice in two weeks if the weather continues favorable, in preparation for their opening game, Sunday, April 28. Among those who have been practicing this year for berths on this nine are Paddy McDonald, Kays, Rink, Watts, and Carlson. The team, sponsored by Ora Stevens, Airport Grill proprietor, plans no entry into any baseball loop but will play independent ball the entire season.

Plum Holow's links will be the scene of a "do-or-die" golf contest between the Rink "Coa Heavers" and a foursome from the Reynolds Wire Mill. The Coa Heavers were forced to postpone their fiery challenge to Witzleb's Plumbers last Sunday when weather, and Ed Witzleb's illness combined to quash the battle. John Bovey spoke up vociferously for the Coa Heavers today when interviewed on the prospects of the team for success.

In Great Shape
Said Bovey: "You can quote me as saying, I'm in wonderful shape. In my present condition I ought to be able to break 150." Bovey has been swinging divots in his back yard.

The first real spell of warm weather is expected to bring a few venturesome tennis enthusiasts out to the courts on Haymarket Square and Dixon high school. At the high school the prep team practices daily under the tutelage of Coaches A. C. Bowers, C. B. Linell, and L. E. Sharpe. The first meet is the Interclass tiff April 17, but interscholastic competition does not commence until Thursday, April 25 against Rock Falls on Dixon's field.

THE BADMINTON GAME

This game originated in India and was known as poona. It was played there for centuries without attracting much outside interest. In the 60s, English army officers took a fancy to it and in 1872, when some of them went home on furlough, they took equipment for the game with them. The formal introduction of poona to England was in 1873 in the home of the duke of Gloucestershire. The duke's castle was named Badminton and thus the game acquired its present name.

BRADDOCK WILL DEFINITELY BE FOE OF MAXIE

Garden Arranges A Bout For About June 6th

New York, Apr. 13.—(AP)—James J. Braddock, hardly more than a light heavyweight, will challenge Max Baer's right to the heavyweight championship in Madison Square Garden's Long Island Bowl in June.

The 28-year-old Jersey City slugger, veteran of ten years' erratic warfare among the light heavies and heavyweights, has accepted the terms for a 15-round championship match. Contracts probably will be signed today.

Baer, who won the title from Primo Carnera last June with Braddock fighting in one of the preliminaries, already is under contract to the Garden.

Jimmy Johnston, Garden matchmaker, who announced last night he definitely had selected Braddock for the title match, said he was not yet certain just when the fight would be held, but probably around June 10. By deduction, fight experts figured it would be staged either June 6 or June 13, since the Garden regularly holds its outdoor shows on Thursdays.

Three Conversions at Christian Church Revival Friday Night

There were three conversions at last night's meeting at the Christian church. The attendance was best for the week since Sunday night. Rev. James A. Barnett used a chart diagram in his sermon on the analogy between the Ark built by Noah and the Church of Christ. Harry C. Jones sang a gospel solo which added much to the enjoyment of the praise service.

There will be service tonight at 7:30. The sermon will be upon "Babel vs. Pentecost" and will be illustrated with a chart diagram. Myron Austin will sing.

The evangelistic services will continue nightly through next week. Rev. Barnett announced that the sermons next week would be taken from incidents of Our Lord's Last Week.

Palm Sunday will be observed with appropriate music by the choir led by Mrs. Ora Tice. The pastor will preach tomorrow morning upon, "Hozannahs and Palm Branches." Tomorrow night will be the second of the ten feature Sunday night services in which he will preach upon "Hen-pecked Husbands and Foolish Wives."

JACK RECALLS ONLY KNOCKOUT BY JIM FLYNN

Dempsey Fought Him in Salt Lake City For $200 in 1917

New York, April 13.—(AP)—So fireman Jim Flynn is dead, eh? Say that's too bad, too bad.

A thoughtful scowl covered Jack Dempsey's dark face. The mind of the old Man Mauler roamed back 18 years to Salt Lake City, and the only knockout of his entire fighting career, at the hands of this same fireman Jim Flynn.

"Too bad," he said again, as he pulled out a chair from one of his tables in his new restaurant, sat down, rested his elbows on the cloth, forgot the crowded noisy room. "If it hadn't been for him, funny as it sounds, I'd probably never be here right now. I'd never have been a heavyweight champion. He made me so mad I had to be a good fighter."

Then he went back to the beginning of a story that may never have been told before.

"I was just a kid, 22, and I was down," he said. "I'd just gotten back from New York, on the brake rods of a freight train, after John Lester Johnson broke a couple of my ribs just when I thought I was ready to set the world on fire. I was broke, and I was having plenty of family trouble."

Thought He'd Be Champ

"I got back from Salt Lake, and Flynn was a big shot. They thought he'd be the next champion. They were looking for someone to 'feed' to him. I was in no shape. I wasn't eating regularly. I couldn't train with my bad side. But they offered me $200 and that looked like all the money in the world. I grabbed it."

"Flynn had a big name, a great reputation and that worried me. He was supposed to have made Jack Johnson quit a fight. I was really scared. I guess. And that night, as we shook hands, he crossed a terrible right to my chin before I even got my hands up."

"They told me I went down face first. I never knew what hit me. Everything just went black. I got up two or three times, and he put me right down again. Luis Firpo hurt me more, because I could feel his punches. But I guess no one in all my career ever hit me that hard. Halfway through the first round my older brother, Bernie, who was seconding me, tossed in the towel. Guess I couldn't have gotten up anyway."

"Getting knocked out wasn't so bad at that stage of the game, but it finished me on top of the Lester Johnson flop. I walked out that night after I came to and I was certain I'd never fight again. I was going back to mining. I don't think I ever would have fought again except that Flynn kept telling everybody he could do the same thing to me any time again. He kept talking that way. I got so mad I forgot all about mining. All I wanted was revenge."

Luck Changed
"I left Salt Lake City and my luck in the ring turned right away. I started to nail 'em. They began to go down and stay down. I beat Charley Miller, Bob McAllister, Homer Smith and some others, and then I came back to Kenosha, Wis., in 1918, to square things with the fireman."

"I was a madman that night all right. This time I got in the first belt. He went down. He got up three or four times, and then he couldn't get up at all. I was so hot then that within the next year I got my chance at Jess Willard at Toledo."

"But if Jim Flynn hadn't made me so mad I couldn't quit the ring. I'd be swinging a pick now in the mines out in Colorado, I guess."

Williamson Case is Sustained by Court of Third District

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—(AP)—Dismissal of a conspiracy indictment against Hiram L. Williamson, former state superintendent of printing, was upheld Friday by the Third District Appellate court.

Williamson and three others were indicted 15 months ago for conspiracy to defraud the state in connection with the printing of a tourist guide, the allegation being that he had the work done by one of his printing companies here.

The Appellate court upheld the quashing of the indictment by the Sangamon county Circuit court under the statute of limitations.

Williamson, secretary of the state press association, was acquitted last year on a charge of conspiracy to defraud in connection with alleged irregularities on his payroll while superintendent of printing.

THE GINKGO TREE

Although the Ginkgo trees is claimed as a native of China, because the first trees came to Europe and later to America in a roundabout way from that country, it has never been observed growing wild. Fossil remains of this tree have been found on more than one continent. Therefore it is assumed that it once occupied a wide range of territory.

THE WORD SARCOPHAGUS

The derivation of the word sarcophagus is from a Greek word which means flesh eater. The name originated in the alleged property of a certain limestone of consuming the whole body, except the teeth, within 40 days.

LOUIS KNOCKS OUT LAZER IN THREE ROUNDS

Great Detroit Negro Has Little Trouble Defeat- ing Rival

Chicago, April 13.—(AP)—Roy Lazer of Patterson, N. J., who had pieced together a neat string of 35 straight victories, today was just number 18 on the list of heavyweights who tried to lick Detroit's sensational Joe Louis, and didn't even come close.

The calm, cunning Negro, who is mentioned every time there is talk of a contender for a world championship battle with Max Baer, spent not quite three rounds in battering Lazer out of action last night in the Chicago Stadium. The triumph, Louis' eighteenth straight as a professional, goes into the record book as a technical knockout. Lazer's seconds having ended the bout by tossing a towel into the ring at the count of six on their warrior's third trip to the floor. The timekeeper, however, could have counted indefinitely.

Fought Carefully

Louis, as usual, fought carefully in the first round, began to catch up in the second, and wasted no time in the third. He had the range and twice floored the Jersey battler with left hooks for counts of nine. He backed Lazer against the ropes, knocked him sagging with another pair of lefts, then finished him off with a crashing right to the chin. The round lasted 2 minutes and 28 seconds.

The outcome amazed not one of the boom-sized crowd of 17,826 spectators including the champion, Baer himself.

The gate, $42,187.80, made the promotional venture of Nate Lewis and Jim Mullen a financial as well as an artistic success.

Tree Helped Wood Out of Tight Spot On Second Hole in Augusta Tourney

THE BEST SHOT CRAIG WOOD EVER PLAYED WAS OFF A NEWSPAPER.

One of the finest shots ever made under the strain of competition was executed by Craig Wood on the second hole of the final round of the first annual Masters' Tournament at the Augusta National Golf club last year.

After a bad tee shot that found the woods to the right of the fairway, Woods tried to play a fade shot to the green. The ball was played well, and looked as if it might reach its objective; it hit a tree, however, and bounded back further into the trees, coming to rest squarely in the middle of a spread-out newspaper.

To approach the green from this position, Craig would have to play a No. 3 iron back toward the tee, or else shoot for an opening in the trees 75 yards away. This opening was 30 yards wide, and 100 yards to the right of the green.

Choosing the latter approach, Wood selected a tree in the opening as a target, figuring to hit the bank to the right of the green. If this was successful, the ball probably would career off and roll toward the green, where he would be in position to get a possible five, or a sure six.

Taking a No. 4 iron, Wood whaled away. True to his aim, the ball hit a branch of the tree, bounded on to the green, and rolled within half an inch of the cup. He holed out for a par four.

This remarkable comeback enabled him to finish second to Horton Smith in the tournament with a 283.

Here's how he made the shot: "Concentrating on keeping the head centered on the ball, which was played slightly toward the right foot, I took the club back in a semi-closed position. The hit was made off the newspaper straight for the tree."

Delivered Inspirational Sermon at Church of the Brethren

The pre-Easter services at the Brethren church last night continued the same fine spirit that has existed through the week. A large audience gathered in the spirit of worship last night to hear the Rev. Paul Studebaker, pastor of the Franklin Grove Brethren church. After a wide-awake praise service led by Paul Thompson Rev. and Mrs. Paul Studebaker sang a beautiful duet to the delight of all present.

Mr. Studebaker took for his scripture lesson the parable of the sower as found in the eighth chapter of Luke, using for a text "He that hath ears, let him hear." The large audience was inspired as the speaker pressed home the importance of seeking to know the truth with a desire to grow in favor and grace with God that they may bear the fruits of righteousness, for he pointed out that every farmer expects to harvest a crop, and that it takes a well prepared field to produce a good crop, so the hearts of men and women should be well prepared that the good seeds of love, honesty, mercy and good-will may find lodgment grow and develop into an upright character dedicated to the service of

FRANKLIN GROVE

By GRACE PEARL

Franklin Grove—Dr. and Mrs. Frank Banker and daughter Miss Margaret, Mrs. W. L. Moore and Mrs. Annis Roe attended the installation of the White Shrine, O. E. S. in Dixon Tuesday evening. Mrs. Banker had the honor of being the installing officer.

Mr. and Mrs. LaForrest Meredith of this place and George Laskar of Milwaukee, Wis. enjoyed Sunday dinner at Beck's at Grand Detour.

Mr. and Mrs. George Altenburg and Mrs. George Hardesty from north of Ashton were here Tuesday at the home of their mother, Mrs. Pauline Altenberg, who sustained a painful fall at her home on Sunday. Fortunately no bones were broken. She is improving as well as could be expected.

The Kilo Club held their meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Fish. Topic: Gardens. Roll call: Gardening Hints. Mrs. Mae Gross read a splendid article about gardening. After the program a social hour followed during which lovely refreshments were served. Mrs. A. W. Crawford was an invited guest.

Clarence Hepler, a former Franklin Grove boy, graduated from the local school, was elected supervisor of Taylor township in Ogle county at the recent election. Congratulations Supervisor Hepler.

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George L. Spangler. The attendance was very good. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. J. T. Gilbert. Mrs. Medrie Hussey, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. A. J. Stewart, the treasurer, gave her report. The auxiliary are working on articles for the soldiers in the hospitals. During the social period tasty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Medrie Hussey.

Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes and daughter, Miss Clara spent Friday at Kewanee with their daughter and sister, Miss Elizabeth Durkes.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Banker were dinner guests Tuesday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Paul Meyers and family at Aurora.

The Aid Society of the Methodist church sent about thirty dozen eggs to the Old People's Home in Chicago Monday.

Earl Buck returned home Wednesday from California where he and his family have spent the winter. Mrs. Buck will remain with their daughters until school has closed and they will all return home for the summer. Mr. Buck reports the family as well and happy. The girls working hard with their school studies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Emmert returned home Sunday evening from Chicago where they had been visiting.

Miss Lucy Krehl returned to her home here Tuesday evening, after having spent the winter out of town.

The cattle sale at the Walter Beachley farm Wednesday afternoon drew a large crowd. F. D. Kelley was the auctioneer. Twenty-seven head of cattle were sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bill and family from north of town were dinner guests Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Lincoln.

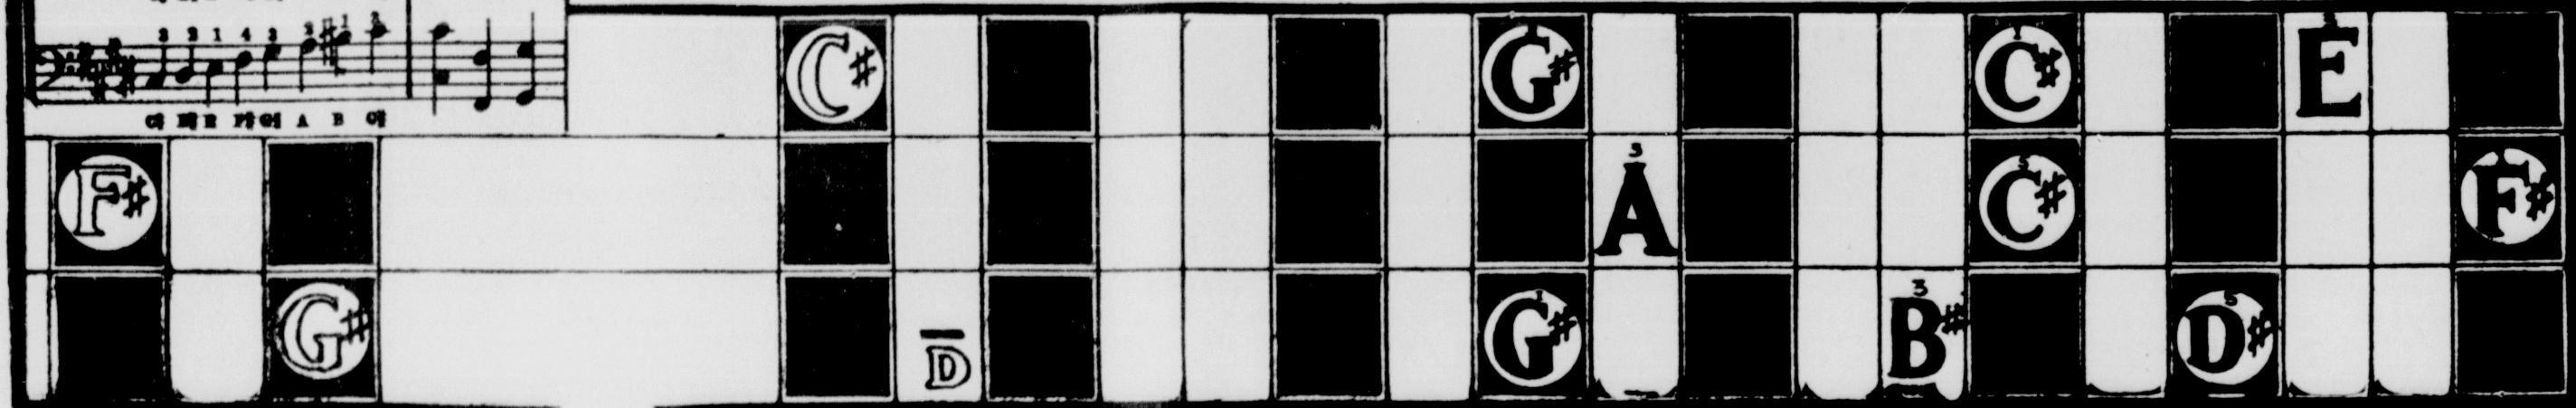

Miss Anna Miller and father, and Miss Clara Klapprodt of Amboy were supper guests Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lott.

Louis Bean was here the first of the week calling on friends that he and his wife made while living at the home of Henry Ling. He was

HOME COURSE IN PIANO PLAYING—LESSON NO. 10

Key of C Sharp Minor relative of E Major.

Copyright, 1927, by W. Scott Grove, Scranton, Pa.

In previous lessons of twenty four lessons of home instruction for the piano or organ, the fourth lesson is here presented. It is the key of C Sharp, which is the relative of the key of E Major. Remember that practice makes perfect and for that reason each lesson should be mastered in the order presented.

Place chart upon the keyboard of piano or organ so that the small white letter D with a dash above it, at the bottom of the chart, is directly over the key D on the keyboard. The white and black spaces will then correspond to the white and black keys. Each of the three horizontal series of letters represents a chord. Repeating with the upper row, play the white letters with the left hand and play the three black letters with the right hand, making the first chord. Then, in the same way, play the notes indicated in the second horizontal series then those in the third and back to the first, forming a complement of chords in the key of C Sharp Minor.

If you will play these chords over and over until you know them perfectly, remembering the letters as well as the keys, you should have no difficulty in playing simple accompaniments to songs sung in the key of C Sharp Minor. Patience and practice combined will bring wonderful results in any endeavor, and these two qualities are the firm foundation in the mastery of a musical education.

If you wish to go further in studying, learn the fingering of the scales shown on the staff in this chart, upper notes played with the right hand, lower with the left hand.

Every triad in black letter is marked 1, 2, 3. Always read it so, no matter in what vertical order the notes may be written. Note that the small letter D with a dash above it must not be played.

NEXT LESSON—Key of B Major, five sharps, F, C, G, D and A, or seven flats.

Duncan, Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mrs. J. T. Gilbert and Mrs. Leland Hanson.

Important Proposition

The proposition concerning the library will be up to the voters at the election Tuesday. It would be well for every voter to give this careful thought. The library has been one of our best public institutions. We have often said the church, school and library go hand in hand. The library has been in operation for over twenty years and has furnished the best reading material to the public. And if the proposition is defeated at the election Tuesday it will be practically impossible to maintain the library any longer.

Those favoring a public library, governed by a board of directors should mark their ballot FOR.

This proposition requires a majority of all votes cast. Any one not marking the ballot one way or the other is really voting against the library. The cost of a public library is 10 cents for every $100 of assessable property in the Village of Franklin Grove. Any tax payer may determine the approximate amount he will have to pay by referring to last year's tax notice and noting the total amount of property assessed. For instance if your total assessed property is $600 your levy would be 60 cents.

By this tax levy everyone in the village is entitled to a book free of charge two times a week. It now costs fifty cents for a membership. A family who might require two cards has to pay $1.00 (under the present system). By the tax levy the two membership cards would be free. Those who have been members of the library association paid their 50 cents and have also been called upon to contribute to various extra expenses, which in many cases cost more than the tax levy.

By becoming a public library the village will be sure of a permanent institution, while if the proposition is voted down it is doubtful if the present library will continue. It is also emphasized that this proposition will in no way interfere with the people on the rural routes as they have the same privileges as ever. By paying their fee they will be members, as always.

Obituary

David C. Williams son of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Williams of this place, was born in Harrisburg, Pa. July 16, 1865 and passed away April 3, 1935, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Susan Van Keuren, at Stratford, Ill. He had reached the age of 69 years, 8 months and 17 days.

He is survived by three children, Mrs. Van Keuren, of Stratford; David of Missouri and Harry of Ashton. Two brothers and two sisters; thirteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive as well as hosts of friends.

The funeral service was held in the Farrell Funeral Home in Oregon. Interment was made in the cemetery at Lighthouse. Rev. J. E. Dale, pastor of the Lutheran church at Oregon had charge of the services.

Mr. Williams grew to young manhood at this place and attended the local schools. He will be remembered by the older residents of the village.

Mothers and Daughters

Tickets are now on sale for the Mothers and Daughters Banquet to be held in the Methodist church April 23. Seventy cents buys a ticket that takes both mother and daughter. The menu is very tempting featuring: chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, buns, coffee, pickles, jelly, sunset salad and angel desert. The ladies will be served by young men waiters.

Village Election

Next Tuesday will be held the annual Election. It is hoped that every voter will go to the polls on Tuesday. Cast your vote for the candidate you prefer. It is the majority that wins, if you fail to vote maybe the very ones you want in office will not have the majority. It is generally known that the disinterested ones (those that stay at home) cause most elections to go just opposite from what they would have voted. Go to the polls Tuesday! Show you are interested in the village. There are two tickets in the field, good men on both tickets.

Following are the tickets: Citizens Ticket—Edward G. Schaefer for President; Charles Wagner, J. T. Gilbert, Adam Wendel, J. F. Group, Charles Howard and Medrie Hussey as trustees; Lester Lott as Village Clerk.

Independent Ticket—George L. Spangler, candidate for re-election to office of President; Raymond E. Jacobs, Wesley Herwig, S. S. Herbst, William Brown and Frank Ross for trustees; E. L. Fish, candidate for re-election as Village Clerk.

At this time the vote on the library proposition will also be made. On the same ballot will be names of persons suggested to serve as directors of the library; those for the two year terms being Miss Maude Conlon and Mrs. Minnetta Moore; for four years Mrs. Ruth Hussey and E. L. Fish; for six years Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes and Charles Baker.

Why Do It?

Manager Snyder of the local camp grounds was in town Tuesday looking over the work that is to be done at the camp. He reports that a large number of windows have been broken out of the cottages, that the office of the swimming pool has been broken into and rolls of tickets scattered all around, making them useless.

Just how anyone can find pleasure in destroying property is unexplainable. The camp grounds are beautiful in the summer. They attract large crowds from nearby towns as well as travel weary tourists, and it seems that this property should not be destroyed.

Robert Ramsdel, owner of the house along the creek known as the Brown house, had it repaired and in good shape. Now he reports windows have been broken by being used as targets by stone throwers and rifle-carriers. Mr. Ramsdel does not like to close the property altogether to trespassers for there are lots of good and thoughtful folks who like to stroll along the creek in that vicinity, but those few who are destructive may spoil the pleasure for many.

Several years ago W. L. Sheep was forced to lock the gates going in to Iron Springs, as thoughtless people left the gate open and his cattle would get out on the road.

John Cover was forced to give up having a nice table in the grove. Several times it was torn to pieces and thrown into the creek.

Again we ask the question "Why Do It?" Why not treat the other mans property as you would like him to treat yours?

Sunday school at 9:00.

Morning worship at 10:00.

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday and instead of the regular services we will hold our communion service, Baptismal service and reception of members. Let's make it a great spiritual uplift in our community. Everyone's cordially invited.

Our pre-Easter services, which began Monday evening, will continue up to and including Friday evening (Good Friday.) There will be services next week on Monday Wednesday and Friday evenings.

This is the time when all of us should be willing to surrender some of our time, talent and earthly means for the cause of Christ and His Kingdom.

Our Preparatory Class will continue to meet each Wednesday afternoon during the Month of April. —L. E. Winter, Pastor.

Stories in STAMPS By I. S. Klein

The Dome of the Rock

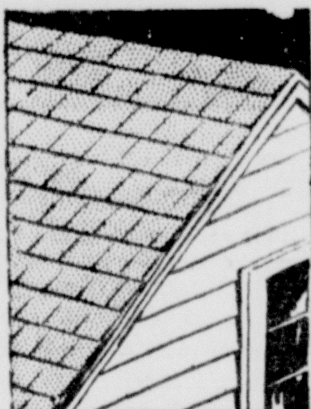

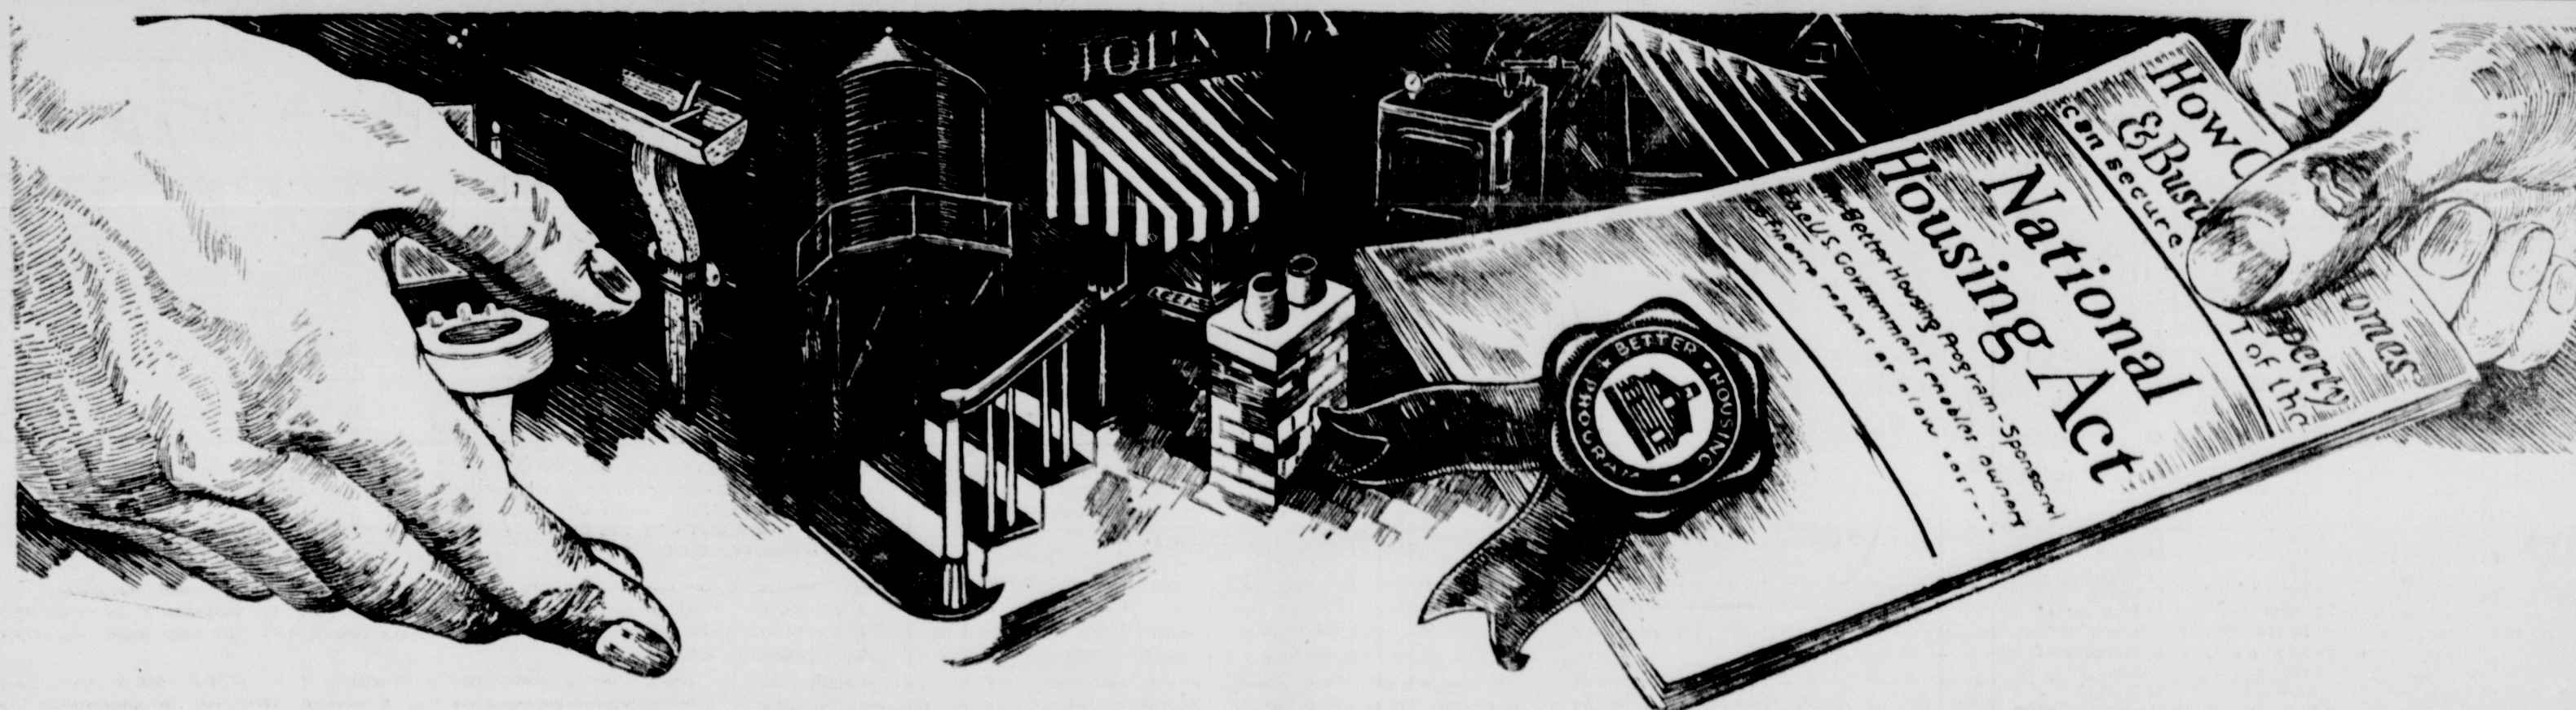

TRADITION as old as earliest Biblical history permeates the famous Mosque of Omar in Palestine. More properly called "The Dome of the Rock," this structure was built in 691 A. D. over what is believed to be the rock where Abraham had intended to sacrifice his son, Isaac.

According to Moslem tradition, it is the rock from which Mohammed ascended to Heaven, and Mohammedans point to the imprint of his feet on the rock as proof.

INCREASE THE VALUE OF YOUR PROPERTY

Look to the future! Think of the value of your home today . . . and next year or five years from now! Neglect means loss. Failure to act now will mean failure to get a price later! The value of your home depends on the condition in which it is kept. Your government wants you to live in a better home, to feel the assurance of its value through the years. Your government is cooperating by providing funds for that purpose. For information see your bank, or Building and Loan Association.

14 Answers to your Questions about Modernization Credit

1. WHO MAY APPLY?

Any property owner, individual, partnership or corporation with a regular income from salary, commissions, business, or other assured source. It is not necessary to be a depositor in the financial institution consulted.

2. TO WHOM DO I APPLY?

To any Financial Institution approved by the Federal Housing Administration; or to a contractor or building supply dealer.

3. HOW MUCH MAY I APPLY FOR?

From $100 to $2,000, depending on your income, for improvements on any one property.

4. HOW LONG MAY NOTES RUN?

For any number of months from one to five years. However, the term of the notes depends entirely on the discretion of the financial institution which may at its option require loans to be repaid over such lesser periods as justified by the amount you can reasonably afford to pay each month.

5. WHAT SECURITY IS REQUIRED?

That you have an adequate regular income and a good credit record in your community. Other security may be accepted if deemed necessary by the financial institution to facilitate extension of credit; or if required by the law governing certain institutions.

6. WHAT ASSURANCE NEED I GIVE?

(a) That you own the property.
(b) That the regular income of the signers of the note is adequate to meet the payments on the note.
(c) That your mortgage, if any, is in good standing, and that there are no other past due encumbrances or liens against your property.
(d) That you will use the proceeds SOLELY for property improvement.

7. WHAT SIGNATURES ARE REQUIRED ON THE NOTE?

Signature of the property owner; and (except in special cases) if the owner is an individual and is married, also signature of wife or husband. No other co-signers or endorser are required, unless necessary to facilitate a loan which could not be made otherwise.

8. WHAT IS THE COST OF THIS CREDIT?

The financial institution may not collect as interest and/or discount and/or fee of any kind, a total charge in excess of an amount equivalent to $5 discount per $100 original face amount of a one-year note, payable in monthly installments. Charge for longer periods than one year is on the same basis.

9. HOW DO I PAY THIS NOTE?

By making regular, equal, monthly payments (seasonal payments for farmers) until the note is paid in full.

10. MAY THE OWNER OF ANY KIND OF PROPERTY APPLY?

Applications will be considered for credit to improve one-family, two-family, or other residences; apartment buildings, stores, office buildings, factories, warehouses, farm buildings.

11. WHERE DO I MAKE PAYMENTS?

The regular installment payments will be made in person at the place of business of the financial institution; or by mail; or as otherwise arranged. NO PAYMENT SHALL BE MADE TO ANY GOVERNMENTAL OFFICE OR ORGANIZATION.

12. MAY I PAY THE NOTE IN FULL BEFORE MATURITY DATE?

Yes, at any time. A reasonable rebate will be allowed for prepayments, if charges have been collected in advance.

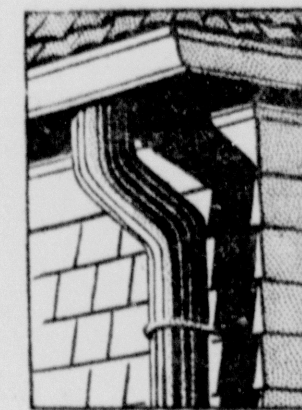

13. MAY I MAKE MORE THAN ONE PAYMENT AT A TIME?

Yes, as many as you wish, but such payments should be in exact multiples of the agreed payments—that is if monthly payment is $10, larger payments should total $20, $30, etc., not, for example, odd sums such as $18 or $25.

14. WHAT IF I AM LATE IN MAKING MY PAYMENT?

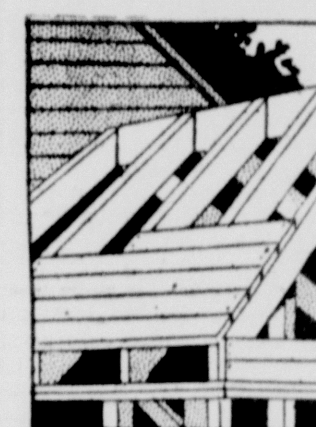

The maker must not permit his payments to fall in arrears. Should a payment be more than 15 days late, the financial institution's expense, caused thereby, should be reimbursed in part at the rate of not more than five cents per dollar for each payment in arrears. Persistent delinquency will make it necessary for the financial institution to take proper steps to effect collection in full.

AMBOY NEWS

By Frances Lepper

Amboy—Mrs. Emil Koessler received word Thursday morning of the death of her sister, Mrs. George Page at her home in Marinette, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koessler and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koessler went to Marinette to attend the funeral. The Amboy fire department has purchased a 25-watt amplifier, which will be used in giving public concerts on Wednesday evenings in the summer. B. L. Hewitt, Henry Gewecke, Lloyd Plume and A. M. Barnhart were in Chicago Wednesday to purchase it.

Sheldon F. Ziegler left Thursday morning to assume his new duties as manager of the Standard oil station at Fifth Avenue and Third street in Sterling. He was manager of the local station until Frank Brangan leased it a week ago. The public is invited to an open meeting of the Junior Women's Club at the library Monday evening April 15. A special interesting program has been arranged. Mrs. Nellie Baroddy of Berwyn will give an illustrated lecture on the subject, "Birds of Illinois."

As the close of the school year draws near many activities are being planned. The following is the calendar of events to which the public is invited to attend:

Literary contest—April 26.

Commercial contest—April 27.

Music festival—May 3.

Conference track meet at Rock Falls, May 4.

Athletic banquet—May 7.

Senior play—May 10.

Agricultural judging contest—May 10.

Agricultural and Home Economics style show—May 17.

Baccalaureate services—May 25.

Commencement exercises—May 29.

Two fire calls were responded to by the volunteer fire department Tuesday. The first run was made to the George Kilmer residence on Jefferson avenue where sparks from a chimney started a roof fire. Damage was estimated at about $250.

The second call was to the Mrs. Hazel McKendrell residence on the west side. The damage was very slight, the fire was caused by defective wiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Finn and family are moving to the Mrs. Catherine Hammon house on Metcalf Ave.

Clara MacKinnon and daughter Alena spent Tuesday evening at the Carl Fisher home in Dixon.

Mrs. J. J. Haas, Mrs. J. E. Haas, Mrs. J. C. MacKinnon and Mr. and Mrs. Kirkby MacKinnon were among those from here who attended the White Shrine installation in Dixon Tuesday evening.

CLYDE BURGESS HANSON

(Contributed)

Clyde Burgess Hanson was born near Harmon, Lee county, on the first day of July, 1922 and departed this life on Saturday, April 13, at 12:55 A. M., being of the age of 12 years, nine months and 13 days. He was the youngest son of William R. and Sarah E. Hanson and leaves to survive his loss, his parents and four brothers, Homer, Levi and Stanley, all of Dixon, and Vernal of DeKalb, also four sisters, Lois Dunne of DeKalb, Freda Mauer, Marie and Charlotte, all of Dixon.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home on Monday at 2 P. M. and from the First Baptist church at 2:30 with the Rev. Walter W. Marshall in charge. Burial will be in Oakwood.

Oh what a time of rejoicing will come,

When all our ransomed are gathered home,

There with our loved ones gone before

We shall praise the Lord for ever more.

Some glad morning

He is not dead, he sleepeth.

LIKE A LAYER CAKE

The harbor of Hongkong is one of the most beautiful in the world. As the city rises from the esplanade along the waterfront it assumes the appearance of a huge layer cake. The peak rises 1,800 feet above sea level. A train excursion leads to Canton, where nearly a third of the population live on boats. The walls of Hongkong are 20 feet thick and in some places 45 feet high.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

A DEAD ISSUE.

To the Citizens of the City of Dixon: In 1927 the voters of the City of Dixon honored me by electing me one of the Commissioners of the City of Dixon. I was re-elected in 1931 and will have served the city for eight years in this office at the end of my present term.

I am again a candidate for reelection and I stand upon my record made during the last eight years, having been, during those years, Commissioner of Streets and Public Improvements.

The Department of Streets and Public Improvements includes the collecting and disposing of garbage. Over two years ago I introduced a motion that all ashes and rubbish of all kinds accumulated during the winter months be collected and disposed of by the city. This scheme has been in operation nearly three years and I am quite sure it meets with the approval of the taxpayers of this city.

Dixon, like all other municipalities has had its troubles with the unemployment situation. During the last two years, I personally have instituted projects whereby men on relief have been put to work and since February last, I have supervised the employment of seventy-five men which were furnished the city by the relief office of this city. In this connection, may I say that I have no power to hire or discharge any man as this is controlled by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission. The only control, if you call it control, which the city has over this work is the supervision of the same. I would be glad if it were within my power to place every unemployed man to work but this is impossible. Even the State and Federal government has failed in this regard.

I note that several of my opponents have made the statement that they are opposed to purchasing the Dixon Water Company by the city. Why this project is now inserted into this campaign, I do not know. In 1931 the question of purchasing the Water Company was submitted to the people of Dixon and by their vote they decided not to do so. During the summer of 1934, when the Public Works Administration of Washington had under consideration the allotting to the city of Dixon the sum of $287,000.00 for a sewage disposal plant, the question arose as to the necessity of the municipality owning the Water Company in order that this project might be perfected. At a meeting held in the office of the mayor, which was attended by the directors of the Water Company and the members of the city council, it was decided that a bonding house take an option upon the Dixon Water Company property so that the city might be in a position to purchase the same if it became necessary to secure the allotment of $287,000.00 for the sewage project. Sometime after the PWA made the allotment without considering whether or not the municipality owned this water works. The option, of course, was never exercised by the bonding company and has expired, or did expire on January 1, 1935. Let it be said that every member of the city council at that time favored the purchasing of the Water Company if it were necessary in order to secure the allotment of $287,000.00 for sewage disposal plant. Let it also be said that no member of the city council since that time has advocated the purchase of the Dixon Water Company and certainly not at a price twice its value. Therefore, I do not consider the purchasing of the Dixon Water Company an issue in this campaign.

I fully appreciate the many kindnesses the electorate of this city has extended to me and if you believe that I have made a good record as a public official, I ask you to vote for me at the City Election on April 16, 1935, for Commissioner.

Very truly yours,

JOHN H. LOFTUS.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

With the time close at hand when the voters of the city will be called upon to select a Mayor and four City Commissioners to conduct the affairs of the city for the coming four years, there arises the discussion as to the financial condition of the city. Ninety days ago when I was asked to fill the vacancy of Commissioner of Finance and Accounts, I found that the actual cash in the various accounts was running rather low. In all justice to the men who composed the Board, would say that the condition could not be charged directly at their door. When the appropriation ordinance was passed designating the amount to run the various departments, the fact evidently was overlooked: What if this amount could not be raised?

The tax forfeiture in Dixon township for last year was $15,242.99 and as the bulk of this amount represents taxes within the corporation limits, this alone covers quite a deficiency. There is now a delinquency of special assessments for local improvement work about the city of paved streets, sewers and sidewalks of about $20,000.00.

In order to meet the bills contracted and keep within the amount appropriated, it has been necessary for the city to issue $11,000.00 in anticipation warrants, these warrants to be paid out of the taxes now in process of collection. Of this $7,000 has been spent. This same procedure has been found necessary in the past and in many other cities throughout the

MILICENT GRAYES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. JARVIS HAPPE, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a brunet, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets his son, NORMAN; his stepson, ROBERT CAISE; Mrs. HAPPE; and VERA DUCHENE. Mrs. HAPPE's maid, a

That night, a note under her door informs Millicent, "The woman in black coming to here." Millicent goes to the woman's quarters. The chauffeur is dead from a bullet wound.

Next morning, SERGEANT MAHONEY takes charge of the case. Fingerprints are found on a whisky bottle lying in the chauffeur's room. By means of a trick Sergeant Mahoney secures Millicent's fingerprints.

Millicent goes into the bathroom to wash the ink from her fingers. She is startled by a masked man who advances threateningly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII

MILICENT recoiled from those menacing fingers. The man followed slowly, matching her retreat by advancing step for step, his eyes glittering, his lips twisted back from his teeth.

Suddenly Millicent's eyes fastened on the gun which Sergeant Mahoney had handed her and which still lay on the table by her bed. She jumped toward it, grabbed it in her hand and screamed, "Get back or I'll shoot!"

The masked man froze into immobility, staring at the gun. Millicent held it, not by the butt, but with her fingers clasped around the barrel, but she was careful to keep the muzzle pointed at the masked intruder.

"I mean it!" Millicent screamed. "I'll shoot!"

Abruptly the closet door opened. Sergeant Mahoney's cheery voice said, "Well, I guess that's about all, Buchanan."

The masked man dropped his threatening attitude. Before Millicent's startled eyes, he raised his hands, removed his mask and showed her his face. Buchanan's rather crestfallen countenance.

"I felt certain she didn't know how to use a gun when I handed her this one," Sergeant Mahoney said.

Millicent felt her knees growing weak. She sat down on the side of the bed, staring dazedly from Sergeant Mahoney to Detective Buchanan.

Sergeant Mahoney put a kindly hand on her shoulder. His left hand took the gun.

"I'm sorry," he said, "that we had to make such a test, but I felt certain you didn't know how to use a gun. The person who killed Harry Feilding was an expert pistol shot. There were no powder marks on the body, indicating that the person must have been some little distance away, yet the single shot sped true."

"I handed you this gun a little while ago and the way you started to reach for it convinced me you didn't know anything at all about shooting."

"I d-d-d-don't," Millicent said. "That's all right, sister," he told her, patting her back.

MILICENT liked the feel of his arm about her shoulders. For a moment or two she gave way to tears. Then, as the tension was relieved, she straightened, dabbed at her eyes with her handkerchief, arranged her hair with the tips of her fingers, and laughed nervously.

"What a baby you must think I am!" she said.

"Indeed we do not," Sergeant Mahoney told her. "You're one of the gamiest little troupers I've ever encountered. Buchanan made a realistic job of that attack, and it was a terrific shock to you, coming on top of other things you've had to contend with."

She stood up, crossed to the mirror, dabbed powder on her face and touched her hair with a comb.

"Now then," Sergeant Mahoney said, "let me give you my impressions, Miss Graves. I'm virtually convinced that you went out in Bob Caise's car last night. I think you ran out of gas and walked back home. I think your clothes got soaked in the rain. I think you found yourself unable or unwilling to enter the house."

"Anyway, you went back to Harry Feilding's room. Why you went there is something I've got to know. I don't know it yet. You heard what Detective Buchanan said about the flask being smashed. I saw the look on your face when he first mentioned the fingerprints and then again, when he said the flask had been smashed. I'm absolutely satisfied those were your prints on that flask and that you knew it."

GERMAN JUDGES ACQUIT FORMER CITIZEN OF U. S.

Charge of Espionage is Held Unfounded; Victim of "Triangle"

Berlin, Apr. 13—(AP)—Richard Roiderer, pale, nervous naturalized American linguist, shouted his opposition to war and dictatorships Friday and was acquitted of espionage charges by five stern-faced Nazi judges of the People's court.

The session, open to the public, lasted five hours and 20 minutes, and the judges deliberated another 45 minutes. The warrant against the former Cleveland and Chicago man was quashed and the state was ordered to bear the costs of the proceedings.

Roiderer, who spent nine months in a Munich jail before he was transferred to Berlin for trial, was a pathetic figure. He was red-eyed and pale and his face was deeply lined and pallid. His nose was scarred from a fall.

Victim of "Triangle" The accused man told a dramatic story of a love triangle in which he expressed the belief he was betrayed to the authorities by the other man.

Roiderer told the judges, three military and two civil, that while giving instruction in languages in Munich, he became acquainted with Hans Wohlfahrt, another language teacher. Wohlfahrt, Roiderer testified, subsequently fell in love with his (Roiderer's) fiancée, Margaret Schicht.

The three often met, Roiderer continued, for "very nice discussions of philosophy, art, books and so forth," despite "my landlady's advice to be a man and send Wohlfahrt packing."

Was Agent Provocateur Finally, Roiderer said, he concluded Wohlfahrt, although professing close friendship, was the agent provocateur who gave testimony against him after his arrest nine months ago.

The United States Consul and newspapermen were ejected from the courtroom at one time, apparently while the judges inspected entries concerning military secrets allegedly entered in Roiderer's notebook.

Roiderer conceded on the witness stand he used "colossal stupidity in taking the notes," but contended "Wohlfahrt is not so good a German as I am."

DAILY HEALTH

DIABETES AND THE PITUITARY GLAND

Cases of severe diabetes usually require insulin permanently. There are few instances on record where it has been possible to do away with insulin entirely.

The diabetic's need for insulin is affected by such conditions as the presence of infection, muscular activity, disturbances in other glands of internal secretion, etc.

In the case of the young man referred to in the previous article who developed a severe diabetes, which required for its control 80 units of insulin daily, and who within six months was able to maintain his urine sugar-free without the use of insulin, none of the above listed causes for the reduction in need of insulin was present. The case was therefore something of a mystery.

Upon complete re-examination of the patient it was found that since his admission to the hospital, he had developed a small tumor in the region of the pituitary gland. (The pituitary is a gland of internal secretion located at the base of the brain.)

This observation offered a clue to the mystery of this diabetes "cure." For it is known that the secretions of the pituitary gland are "antagonistic" to insulin. Experimentally it has been shown that animals in whom the pituitary has been removed can further tolerate the removal of the pancreas without developing severe diabetes. Also, clinically it is known that in the case where the pituitary gland is overactive (giving rise to what is known as acromegaly or whooper jaw,) diabetes frequently appears.

From all this, therefore, it appears that we will need to modify our ideas on diabetes. Possibly diabetes is not due entirely or exclusively to disease in the pancreas. The difficulty may reside in the pituitary gland. A suggestion has been made that in diabetes patients examination of the pituitary gland should be made routinely.

One cannot at this time say where these newer concepts of diabetes may lead, but they are certainly promising.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

To make a hat yield up a bunny is a magic stunt and, I assure you, a better trick. Watch ME make a bun or chick!

EASTER NOVELTIES

THE best part of an Easter party for the children should be their fun and happiness in getting ready for it. There are so many things that they may make themselves for the occasion, that it would be a shame as well as an extravagance to spoil their pleasure by buying them ready-made.

The materials are all those that one is apt to have on hand or may easily procure. Some gum drops, jelly string, marshmallows and a package of toothpicks are the main ingredients for an assortment of amusing and clever Easter novelties.

A little practice will enable all but the very small children to turn out successful bunnies and chickens, while for older parties, Easter baskets and flower pots are in order as favors and place-cards.

In making the bunnies and chickens one or two whole marshmallows are usually used for the body, head or quarter for the head or tail, with small or large nippings for the ears, feet, tails and eyes are made from whole or cut gum drops.

When working with marshmallows dip scissors in hot water before cutting, dust cut surfaces with cornstarch. If you do not want them to stick, wet toothpicks before inserting, and use them to make holes in which to insert eyes or other features. A certain amount of modeling must be done with the hands, a knack quickly learned with a little practice.

The basket is made from a hollowed-out marshmallow. The handle is made with a split jelly string. The cavity is filled with "candy" Easter eggs. The flower pot uses the marshmallow, tied with red-ribbon, as a base. Flowers and leaves are of gum drops, shaped by the warmth of one's hands.

A little grated chocolate will simulate earth. To attach these novelties to place cards, position the bottom lightly with water.

For a novel Easter hunt, wrap marshmallows in colored waxed paper, fastening the ends with a sticker and gently moulding to resemble eggs. These have the advantage over hard-boiled eggs of being cheaper, lighter in weight, more pleasing to eat, and best of all, something entirely new. The baskets may also be made at home.

Temperature-- Any refrigerator will furnish temperature.

Moisture-- Ice Refrigerator alone keeps your food moist eliminating loss of flavor by drying out. Closing the food up in containers eliminates ventilation making a bad matter worse.

Ventilation-- Ice Refrigerators keep your food from odor tainting. The constantly circulating odor laden air from your food is cleansed by the moist surface of the ice, cleaning and sweetening the whole interior of the refrigerator.

The amount and character of these odors and gases given off are clearly shown as the slime that accumulates in the ice refrigerator drain, or when defrosting an electric refrigerator.
